ARMY OFFICER(Correspondence of Associated Press)
SYDNEY, N. S. July 12.—Residents of this city are beginning to wonder whether it is still in order to pity Captain Thomas Kitchen, the Canadian field artillery officer whose fiancée, Miss A. Butler of Manchester, England, transferred her affections to Lieutenant T. Miller while en route to Halifax to marry the captain.

Following the publicity which has been given the broken engagement, Captain Kitchen has received many letters, mostly from English women, in which the writer offers her own hand to the captain by way of consolation for the loss of Miss Butler.

Among those who offer to come to Sydney and become Mrs. Captain Kitchen is a young duchess, Captain Kitchen says. She has written expressing her sympathy and volunteered to come at once if the gallant Canadian will have her.

Captain Kitchen would not tell the name of the duchess or say whether she was a noblewoman in her own right or the divorced or widowed wife of some high ranking peer.

INDUSTRIAL WAR RAGES
OVER UNION DEMANDS(Correspondence of Associated Press)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Aug. 2.—

An industrial conflict is being waged between mine operators and leaders of the United Mine Workers over the question whether all the bituminous coal miners in West Virginia shall be organized as union men.

The miners' leaders also demand that the scale of pay now in use in the Kanawha field be adopted in the Mingo county bituminous field here.

Charles F. Keeney, president of district No. 17 of the United Mine Workers, who is in command of the union forces, explains the situation here by saying:

"There are approximately 55,000 organized miners in West Virginia and 35,000 who have not yet been organized. These unorganized men are mostly in the counties of Mingo, McDowell, Logan, Raleigh, Mercer and Wayne, all in the southern part of the state. The campaign to organize these miners is well under way and we expect to have it completed before the snow flies."

Oppose Mine Guards

"Then men and the operators could get together and settle this thing if it were not for the mine guards. They are depriving the men of their constitutional rights and that brings about trouble. Why, I understand the sheriff of Pike county has deputized some 300 men and the coal companies are paying them, while detectives are on the border between Mingo and McDowell counties with rifles and machine guns."

"What would happen if an attempt were made to operate the mines here with non-union men? I wouldn't like to say. But in their present temper, these men are not to be fooled with. Right now this situation is a powder mill. The men have no complaint when the law is enforced by the proper authorities. But they will oppose to the last the use of private armies enlisted by the coal companies."

Harry Olmstead, of the Coal Operators' association of Williamson, gave the other side of the controversy.

Want to Organize

"The United Mine Workers want to organize their field," said Mr. Olmstead, "and then move on to the larger and more important fields of McDowell, Wyoming and Mercer counties, and what mines have not been organized in Raleigh. These are the last important unorganized bituminous coal fields in the country and, with these organized, the union will control the bituminous production of the United States. They will be in a position to enforce the demands formulated at the Cleveland convention last year and which they could not enforce in the general coal strike last year, because our mines in this part of the state were operating and our men stuck to their posts. We saved the country from suffering then because this field was not organized."

Ask Kanawha Scale

"The Kanawha scale which the union demands is less than the scale we are now paying and I don't know that the question of treatment or working conditions has entered into the controversy. It is just a question of the United Mine Workers uniting the mines, with all that such a course carries. We object to that, because for a matter of 20 years we have enjoyed peace and quiet here in this field, and I may say that because of this we have made the success of this field possible."

"All differences have been settled by operators and miners, and settled satisfactorily. I know of some union men who have come in here from union fields but they left just as soon as the union organizers came in last spring. I don't believe there is any basic union sentiment in the field."

NYE COUNTY BOARD OF

field, because the men have always made good money.

Best in the State

"The mines are among the best in the state. We have no gas, and consequently no explosions and the lying conditions in the valley are good."

"The Baldwin-Felts detectives, about whom one hears so much, are not employed to guard property and in no sense are they mine guards. In fact, there is not a mine guard in Mingo county. These men are employed by the companies as any corporation which does not have its own intelligence department employs such men."

The Mingo district produced last year about 6,000,000 tons of coal, worth about $16,000,000, with the loss of only six lives, according to J. W. St. Clair, state mine inspector for that district.

BRITISH RAILWAY
GROUPS FORMED

New Government Program Alternative For Nationalization of Roads.

(Correspondence of Associated Press)

LONDON, July 15.—The government's railway program, intended as an alternative to nationalization of the roads, which are now subsidized, provides for the formation of the railways of England and Wales into six groups, the main groups to absorb the smaller lines. Present shareholders are to form the majority of each board of management, but each board also is to include "members elected from and by the workers on the railway." Direct competition between groups is to be eliminated.

The government financial guarantee ceases and rates and fares are to be fixed, with certain safeguards for the public, so as to produce a net revenue substantially equivalent on some pre-war basis to the net revenue of all companies absorbed in the groups. The state is to take a share of surplus revenues and use it "for light railway development."

Wage Question

Wages and working conditions will be dealt with by machinery set up under the control of the transport ministry. The national wage board for appeals is to represent equally railway managers, workers and users, with an independent chairman. The state will have power to insist upon standardization of rolling stock and equipment.

Scottish Group

A seventh group will control the Scottish lines. The program, issued by Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transport as a white paper, will be submitted to parliament as a new transport bill. In case the amalgamation is not carried out voluntarily the government will seek power to compel amalgamation within a specified time.

Sir Eric's proposals generally are received with editorial disapproval by the newspapers. The Daily News says the proposals "raise all the difficulties inherent in nationalization without entering any of its benefits."

CATTLE RUSTLERS
USING MOTOR CAR

(Correspondence of Associated Press)

REGINA, Sask., July 17.—The motor car, it seems, has achieved another success by winning its advent into the cattle rustling business. The old and well-known practice of cattle rustlers when they used to drive their stolen herds before them is now a thing of the past. A few days ago three calves were stolen from herds near Thompson and spirited across the international border in two motor cars. Three of the rustlers were arrested on this side of the line and two others in Montana and are now awaiting trial.
